DETAILED ACTION

Continued Examination Under 37 CFR 1.114

A request for continued examination under 37 CFR 1.114, including the fee set forth in 37 CFR 1.17(e), was filed in this application after final rejection. Since this application is eligible for continued examination under 37 CFR 1.114, and the fee set forth in 37 CFR 1.17(e) has been timely paid, the finality of the previous Office action has been withdrawn pursuant to 37 CFR 1.114. Applicant's submission filed on August 19, 2005 has been entered.

Response to Amendment

Claims 1 and 3-23 are pending in the application. Claims 22 and 23 are newly added.

-The 102(b), 102(e) and 103(a) rejections have been withdrawn due to applicant's amendment to claims 1, 9 and 16 not being disclosed in the prior art of record.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

The following is a quotation of the second paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall conclude with one or more claims particularly pointing out and distinctly claiming the subject matter which the applicant regards as his invention.

Claims 22 and 23 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention.

The limitations in these claims recite "a magnitude of said current traction load is less than a magnitude of said estimated traction load." Since the word "magnitude" is not defined in the specification, it is unclear as to what the word is representing, (i.e., a specific value, etc.).

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

Claim 22 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Kuroda et al ('170). Kuroda et al discloses a control system having a transmission (6), a controller (14) detecting driving conditions of a vehicle, the controller indicating a downshift of the transmission based on the conditions (downshifting directing means), the controller estimates a frictional resistance predetermined value of the downhill road and determines a frictional resistance of the road and selectively inhibits the downshift according to the frictional resistance if it is less than the predetermined frictional resistance value (claim 8).

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

Claim 23 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Kondo et al ('995) in view of Kuroda et al. Kondo et al discloses a shift control system and method for an automatic transmission having a transmission (1001), a controller (1004) detecting a downshift condition (engine load decrease) and vehicle driving conditions (i.e., vehicle speed, engine parameters, etc.), estimating a traction load (tire load, 112c) based on a lateral signal (GY used to determine tire load and maximum value of tire load to be used), estimating a current traction load (tire load, 112b) based on a longitudinal signal (GX) and performing a downshift (sporty degree decrease) based on the estimations if downshift conditions are met (engine load decrease conditions present: low engine speed, decreased throttle opening, etc.).

Kondo et al does not disclose selectively inhibiting the downshift according to the tire loads.

Kuroda et al disclose a control system that selectively inhibits downshifts according to frictional and traction values as described in the 102 rejection.

It would have been obvious to a person of ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to provide Kondo et al with an downshift inhibiting means in view of Kuroda et al to prevent unnecessary downshifting and uncomfortable feel of shifting to operator.

Allowable Subject Matter

Claims 1 and 3-21 are allowed.

FACSIMILE TRANSMISSION

Submission of your response by facsimile transmission is encouraged. Group 3600's facsimile number is (703) 872-9326 before final and 703-872-9327 after final. Recognizing the fact that reducing cycle time in the processing and examination of patent applications will effectively increase a patent's term, it is to your benefit to submit responses by facsimile transmission whenever permissible. Such submission will place the response directly in our examining group's hands and will eliminate Post Office processing and delivery time as well as the PTO's mail room processing and delivery time. For a complete list of correspondence not permitted by facsimile transmission, see MPEP 502.01. In general, most responses and/or amendments not requiring a fee, as well as those requiring a fee but charging such fee to a deposit account, can be submitted by facsimile transmission. Responses requiring a fee which applicant is paying by check should not be submitting by facsimile transmission separately from the check.

Responses submitted by facsimile transmission should include a Certificate of Transmission (MPEP 512). The following is an example of the format the certification might take:

I hereby certify that this correspondence is being facsimile transmitted to the Patent and Trademark Office (Fax No. (703) 000-0000) on _____ (Date)

Typed or printed name of person signing this certificate:

(Signature)

If your response is submitted by facsimile transmission, you are hereby reminded that the original should be retained as evidence of authenticity (37 CFR 1.4 and MPEP 502.02). Please do not separately mail the original or another copy unless required by the Patent and Trademark Office. Submission of the original response or a follow-up copy of the response after your response has been transmitted by facsimile will only cause further unnecessary delays in the processing of your application; duplicate responses where fees are charged to a deposit account may result in those fees being charged twice.
